Time Travel: Future Events Occurring As Stated, Opening The Floor, AMA

Temporal Distortion

I posted around 11 days ago about a time travel experiment I performed, successfully, which has put me in communication with the future. As proof, I shared multiple detailed predictions about major news stories that would occur over the course of the next few weeks. Those events have occurred exactly as stated.

I have made a few more additional statements about future events as stated and encourage people to run their own VoiceTracer experiment while I set up my research blog. While I'm here, though, I felt like it would help to share some of what I've learned of the future and encourage others to try it out.

For the record, I am a time traveler, by whatever metric you could probably come up with. There's a lot more from my past that I'm not sharing, especially as some of that involves knowledge of the future. This is a DIY time travel experiment and I'm working on others, including an app to track and rate anachronistic historical data, which is present in history books already. I've already got a small personal archive going, with some very robust investigation files, by my present standards.

I do need more resources to continue the research, though. No lottery tickets, the karmic lashback from accepting someone else's future funds is too much to risk. I've got information that's much more valuable than any financial currency. I'm hoping to find someone who might be willing to invest in or fund further research in more stringent laboratory conditions, but most major institutions think time travel is a joke.

I'm here to answer any questions about future events and make further predictions, so that the body of proof is enough to show that these aren't educated guesses but actual future knowledge that was received in communication. If anyone has specific questions aimed at proving that or questioning that, I'm here to answer.

Cool... uh... can you maybe provide a link for those predictions you made? Or should we just take your word on it?

Reading his post history and he seems like a basement dweller gamer thats falling into schizophrenia. He is hitlers grandson, survivor of Epstein and Kevin Spacey,in contact with senators about secret clandestine Nazi group, and a time traveler. Lots of claims of proof yet nothing but post event news stories and his own audio rants

Edit falling not felling

You've been vague about the 2027 event saying we wouldn't believe it.

For shits and giggles, let's hear it in detail.

What is the revelation? And what is major historical event that is broadcast?

No vague, cagey answers. Spill it in detail.

He is a time traveling love child of Hitler and an American nazi performing a secret sex ritual that Aleister Crowley taught them! He's publishing things on his "must accept cookies" website... he's got proof. This guy MAIN CHARACTERS HARD.

I worked inpatient psych for 7 years, including with (no I'm not kidding) a "time traveler". They told me many things over my time with them but one was a code to "notice" any other travelers. I can't say I believe or don't believe them (there were a few but I'm talking about one woman in particular). It has been 15+ years and I have never heard anyone utter this phrase even though I could see how it would be appropriate/useful in communication (even within hospitals). So, since you are a time traveler, and she told me to be on the lookout: what's the code?

We've been expecting "the big one" (earthquake) somewhere along the west coast of Canada/the US for a while. Do you see when and where (geographically) this will happen?

Are we going to find evidence of life after death? Evidence of telepathy or psychic gifts?

About ten years from now, are we still using social media, or has it evolved/died off in favor of something different?

Hijacking this so you see the notification and hopefully answer, whether or not this is "real" it's fun to engage in.

How many years will it be before science can prove that our consciousness is non-local? Can it ever, or will we ever reach a tipping point where it's understood around the world that our consciousness is eternal and is not just some biological function that arises within and is solely tied to our physical bodies/brains?

If you have an answer I feel like it would be hundreds of years away, but maybe not.

Went to the other post you linked. Not a single prediction listed there even though you talk about the fact you made there predictions. You posted a link to your website www.richmarin.com where you said the predictions would be posted. But again, no. You only have two entries and mention your book and your documentary on Nazi's in America. Either give us the evidence you made these predictions or just stop talking about it.

(On another note, the other Reddit post had more details on how he accomplishes this supposed time travel. It sounds like he took something he read in a science article and made incorrect assumptions and assumed they were correct. Then he expanded on that.)

When do the JFK files become declassified and what's in them? What impact do they have?

6 Reply ...

1shoedpunk OP • 1d ago

There are CIA files that will be declassified at the end of the declassification period that provide additional context as to who specifically orchestrated the plot. Those documents were not originally intended to be released and it was public pressure that both located them and ensured that they were part of the public record.

The disclosure of that file is part of a broader law enforcement action against the individuals involved in the assassination.

practices, you have found a way of harnessing the power of intention and tuning into your intuition, albeit in a novel way.

This is all by way of saying that I think you are tapping into some very ancient practices that have long traditions, they just don't usually apply a theoretical physics framework, or being "from the future"

Also, this is only what I've gleaned from your explanation of the practice, which to be fair could use some clarification.

For example, can you give an example of a very simple exchange one might have between these recordings. I can't really understand what you're getting at otherwise. For example:

Week 1: "I dunno I think Kamala Harris might be the next president"

Week 2: "Still don't know, but that sounds kinda right"

Is that what we are talking about?? I really can't tell based on how you have explained it thread, not once have you been specific or offered insight as to why you've come to the conclusions you have. For instance, who scores the goal in the UEFA League Final? What are the events leading to $GME dropping to $9?

It seems you're plucking random guesses out of thin air, as you did post this 'AMA' without any substantial proof as to how you arrive at these conclusions. Your explanation for how this 'time travel' works is wishy washy at best. Particles have memory? The quantum fields for each fundamental vibrational mode are ever changing and diffuse, regardless of how real we think they are. What is the method of action of memory preservation between say an electron that is captured by a neutron and fundamentally changes its nature, or a photon that annihilates another? Do the protons in particle accelerators have memory and is it preserved when they're smashed into short-lived K mesons and other high energy particles?

You also say language is important, and that you're careful with how you speak these days, yet your initial post and the majority of your comments are rife with grammatical errors and spelling mistakes - if I were making these claims I'd be diligent to ensure my use of language was at least adequate to back up my story.

I keep an open mind, but this is clearly your way of having a little bit of fun, and I think, personally, this subreddit should not entertain it unless you provide irrefutable evidence.

I like your fan fiction fantasies, but considering your similarity to another guy I used to talk to on the Internet that burned themselves to death, in a very sad waste of life, I would caution that if your fantasies start causing you any anxiety in the slightest, please seek out close friends and family and discuss ways to get help.

The border between fantasy and madness can be very very thin, and it's dangerous to always walk in both worlds, you start getting in any emotional trouble you can spiral easily and the voices of reason become like the taunting of demons.

Take it easy bro,

Oh and you're right about Nazis in the government of the West but it's not a specific clique or conspiracy, it's really the entire ideology of the elite and it's suffused throughout. You can't defeat it by uncovering ONE STUNNING TRUTH like a cartoon hero, the only way of countering it is worker solidarity, class solidarity, defeating them through humanity and faith in the numerical superiority of decent people over psychopaths that hold and seek power
